ELECTION NOTES

Regain Control of County Affairs by Winning With Five Candidates to Three for Opponents

In what old timers say was the hottest county election they ever saw in old Madison, the Democrats elected a majority of their ticket to county offices Tuesday. Five Democrats and three Republicans were successful, as shown by the list of winners on this page.

Not until the final precinct was in and the vote counted up on mailing machines was the result in any race known to a certainty. Democrats would show remarkable gains in some country precincts and losses in others. In the city in all races except that for sheriff, the Democratic voter fell far short of what was expected as shown by the registration, in nearly all of the precincts, but one or two showing a gain. Elmer Deatherage ran well ahead of his ticket in the city, with a majority in the eight city precincts of 32. Other majorities in the city precincts ran thus: Wagers 176; Kennedy 119; Goodloe 175; Samuels 132; Chenault 208; Rogers 251 and Adams 20.

There were several very exciting races out in the county. The Magistrate's race in the Milford district was perhaps the warmest ever known there. Teeter, Democratic candidate, is claiming election over Jones, Republican, by a majority of one. He has figures to show that he received 208 to 207. It is understood that Jones is also claiming it.

A total of 11,932 votes was cast in the sheriff's race, the heaviest vote ever known in the county. Both parties had splendid organizations and got their votes to the polls. It was a "floss race" of the hottest kind. The unofficial vote by precincts, as phoned in Tuesday night, is shown in another column.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN LAUREL COUNTY

News comes from London that the Democratic-Independent ticket won with all their candidates in the Laurel county election Tuesday. J. S. Stringer won for sheriff by 900 majority; Tilford Jones, the famous pitcher of other days, for county clerk by 800; Wm. Bringtonton for jailer by 100. The Democrats also elected one magistrate and may get two when the full vote is in. Laurel usually goes over 1,000 republican.

Tom Rhea's candidates were defeated for the first time in many years in Logan county by a fusion ticket made up of disunited democrats and republicans.

Oscar Gorney, a blind candidate for police judge of Harrington, won over John L. Vanarsdale by 48 votes.

Owen county voted in favor of the school amendments, but reports are meager as yet as in most counties first reports were only of the county races.

The entire Democratic ticket lost in the election in Garrard county Tuesday, the Republicans electing their ticket by about 150 majority. J. E. Robinson for state senator, lost by about 100. The election was very hotly contested on both sides.

Reports from Louisville are that the republicans carried it by majorities of from 6,000 to 9,000.

Congressman's Serious Charge

(By Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 9.—Representative Johnson, republican, of South Dakota, a former army officer, declared in the House today while he had no substantiation of the charge, he had reason to believe that soldiers who were traitors, cowards, or mentally unfit, were shot by their own comrades while facing the enemy during the world war.

The Weather

Cloudy and colder Thursday; probably rain in east portion Thursday.

THE NEW COUNTY JUDGE

KILLING AT POOSEY ON ELECTION DAY

Quarrel Over Politics Leads To Tragedy—Slayer Surrenders—Trial Monday

Squire Williams was shot twice and killed at Poossey Tuesday by Lindsey Warner, as a result of an election quarrel. Warner came to town and gave himself up and has been kept under guard by Sheriff Whitlock. Williams is said to have been a republican and Warner a democrat. They are reported to have quarreled about politics and the killing followed. Details of the unfortunate affair will undoubtedly come out at the examining trial of Warner which has been set by County Judge W. K. Price for next Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Stories of the affair as told on the street by men from that section differ as to the details of the tragedy.

John F. Hylan, democrat, Tammany's candidate for re-election as mayor of New York, won over Henry H. Curran, his republican opponent by about 400,000.

Early indications are that J. E. Childers, democrat, has defeated Judge Ruscoe Vanover, republican, for circuit judge in the rock-ribbed Pike and Letcher counties republican district.

Tom Rhea's candidates were defeated for the first time in many years in Logan county by a fusion ticket made up of disunited democrats and republicans.

Oscar Gorney, a blind candidate for police judge of Harrington, won over John L. Vanarsdale by 48 votes.

With three precincts in Casey county still not reported, indications were Wednesday morning that J. E. Robinson, of Garrard, democrat, had been defeated for State Senator by J. S. Haselden, of Lancaster, Garrard county, republican. Robinson lost Garrard by about 100; carried Boyle by 800; Lincoln about 150, and Casey with the three precincts out, is said to have gone 1,000 for Haselden. Whether those three precincts will change the result is not known. With them out Robinson is said to be about 100 votes behind.

Man's Head Crushed When Struck by Auto

Louisville, Nov. 9.—Funeral service for Thomas E. McKellar, 44, who was injured fatally when he was struck by an automobile, were held yesterday. He was crossing Seventh street at Broadway when an automobile driven by J. L. Cusick, photographer, struck him and carried him onto the sidewalk. His head caught beneath a wheel and he died later at a hospital. Cusick was arrested and charged with manslaughter.

OHIO VOTES BIG SUM FOR SOLDIERS

Maryland Democrats Win Sweep ing Victories and Big Gains. Are Made in New York

(By Associated Press) Lexington, Nov. 9.—Three elections of the Breatholt county election battle at Clayhole precinct near Jackson were brought here early today for treatment. The men included Hiram Campbell, Tom Miller and Will Davis. Miller's condition is serious. The men said that the first reports that six men were killed were erroneous and that four men were killed outright and 12 wounded.

In Kentucky, where the entire lower house of the legislature and 13 of the 27 members of the senate were elected, the democrats are conceded control of both houses.

In Kentucky, the democrats have a good majority in the lower house of the legislature, while control of the senate hinges on the result in the 34th and 18th districts.

In Cleveland former chief of police Fred Kohler, democrat, was elected mayor by about 4,000.

Samuel Lew Shank, republican, was chosen mayor by the largest majority ever given a candidate for that office in Indianapolis.

Major James Couzens was re-elected mayor of Detroit.

Ohio voted a bond issue of $25,000,000 for former service men, the total for each not to exceed $250.

In New York the democratic candidates headed by mayor

S. H. BAUER, Editor and Proprietor

Taken all in all it was a splendid lot of men that the voters of Madison county elected to conduct their affairs for the next four years. Of course, we democrats would have been better pleased if the entire ticket had won, but our friends the republicans, feel the same way about their ticket.

It was a hard fight but it's over now and the majorities are sufficient to prevent any acute dissatisfaction, and it won't be but a day or two until politics will be forgotten and the community life will move along smoothy again.

Politics is eschewed, the Daily Register as a Democratic newspaper, feels called upon to pay a slight heed of tribute to the remarkable campaign that the Democratic nominees waged, and to the loyal and energetic workers in every part of the county who made victory possible. And the chief of these was J. L. Greenleaf, county chairman. To his skill and indomitable zeal, his untiring energy, keen insight and proficiency as an organizer is due a large portion of the credit for the results achieved. He put the pep into the candidates and the workers constantly, and built up an organization, the like of which Madison county democracy has not known for a quarter of a century; so the old timers say.

LOUISVILLE'S PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—As a memorial to the dead and a tribute to the living, a community observance of Armistice Day in honor of Jefferson Post of the American Legion will be held at Warren Memorial Church on the night of November 11 under the auspices of the "Citizens of Louisville."

Louisville wishes to make a public profession of its gratitude and loyalty and we ask you to be present to receive it," says an invitation mailed to each member of Jefferson Post.

An elaborate and impressive program has been arranged for the occasion.

Beginning at 7:15 o'clock, when the doors are to be opened, there will be an organ recital of war music. This will be followed by the singing of the National anthem "America, the Beautiful." Introductory remarks for the committee in charge will be made by Dr. Samuel Gullen, a former army chaplain. J. Blakeley Helm, adjutant of Jefferson Post will respond for the Legion and Brig. General Dwight E. Aultman, commander of Camp Henry Knox will respond for the army.

The "Commemoration Ode, No. 1, 1919" will be sung by a specially trained chorus or one of the best voices in the city, under the personal direction of Carl Shackleton. The concluding line of the ode are:

"Therefore, with banners burning, with lights and garland dressed; honour to those returning, honour to those at rest." The second part of the program is the Commemoration Pageant. This is divided into two parts, a military procession, and a symbolic procession. The military procession will be enacted by a specie detail of soldiers from Camp Henry Knox, each bearing the flag of one of the allies.

The symbolic procession will be in the name of Louisville women who served in 1914 to 1920 and will be composed of twenty-one women whose identity will not be disclosed.

At the conclusion of the second procession the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" will be sung.

Then for one minute the audience is asked to sit silent.

Taps sounded from high in the dome of the church by an army bugler from Camp Henry Knox will conclude the program.

BUSINESS WOMAN WAS DISTRESSED

Mrs. Castle of Huntington, Never Expected To Be Well Again

"My gratitude to Tanlac for making me well and strong again is just beyond my power of words to express," said Mrs. Mae M. Castle, 323 18th street, Huntington, W. Va., who owns and manages a large grocery store and meat market.

"I had no idea a medicine could do so much for a person as Tanlac has done for me. For a long time I had been in failing health. My appetite was poor and after almost every meal I had severe attacks of indigestion. I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep and was losing weight and strength every day.

"I appreciate what Tanlac has done for me, as I never expected to be well and strong again. I can truthfully say that I am in perfect health and feeling younger and stronger than in years."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son, and leading druggists.

NORMAL LYCEUM OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT

The annual Lyceum Course of the Normal school opens Friday night with Pitt Parker, the "Crayon Artist," as the attraction. Mr. Parker is not only a cartoonist but a clay modeler and a humorist. His program should be highly entertaining. Here is what he says about himself:

"I have been present at every performance given by Mr. Parker during the past twelve years, and at many previous to that time. To say that I took the keenest delight in them all would hardly be true. Speaking frankly, I have never attended one of his performances without going away thinking I could do much better, and frequently I have succeeded in doing it. I may be a trifle critical but I have seen him with crayon in hand before a refined and intelligent audience make a mark, follow a remark, and proceed to rub it in.

"He seems confined to no particular line, for he draws all conceivable kinds, leaving it for the audience to draw conclusions. Some might think his work rather superficial because so much of it appears only on the surface, yet the large number of towns in which he has appeared but once proves that his work is not forgotten. Possibly he shows the best form in his clay modeling in which he features clay features."

"Personally, I am quite fond of Mr. Parker and anticipate the pleasure of being present at many more entertainments given by him."

Mr. Cecil Spence, of Cincinnati, was in Richmond recently the guest of Miss Martha Garrett on Breck avenue.

"JOHNNY APPLESEED," SCOUT WHO PLANTED ORCHARDS

Not all of the great scouts were Indian fighters. In contrast to the career of Lewis Wetzel, who was something of a professional Indian killer, is the life of John Chapman, or "Johnny Appleseed." Chapman never killed an Indian in his life, but he probably saved as many white men from death at their hands as Wetzel did.

Chapman first appeared on the Ohio frontier in 1806. He came floating down the Ohio river in a canoe, towing another, and both boats were loaded with apple seeds from the eastern mists of Pennsylvania. His purpose was to plant the seeds in the wilder woods so that orchards would be started for the settlers when they arrived there to make their homes. For the next 30 years he went every where up and down the Ohio country planting seeds, going from one orchard to another, pruning and caring for the young trees. He was a welcome visitor in the log cabins of the settlers for he always carried a Bible and some books from which he would read and preach to them before the blazing fireplaces in the evening.

Johnnie preached his teachings of humility and kindness. He never killed anything for food. He carried a kit of cooking utensils, including a morsel which he sometimes wore as a hat. Usually he carried a broad brimmed black hat, for it made such warmth when cut in it was blistery cold.

When we last left him "Appleseed" was still on his journey in winter as well as the summer, but the Indians said, "He has been rejected by the Great Spirit." He was everywhere among them unheeded for the fact that a young man carried a gun convinced them that he was under the special protection of the Master.

During the War of 1812 when the British were occupying the Ohio country, Johnny Appleseed performed his usual services for his people. In his wanderings among the tribes he often taught them their plans for attacks on the settlements. Where no other white man could have gone, Johnny passed in safety and more than once he carried warnings to the settlers, giving them time to prepare for defense before the red invaders swooped down upon them.

All that he did, Appleseed was carrying out his cherished dream of making orchards with fruit trees and setting the finest orchards in the world to his own personal beginning. In his later years Johnny left the country which he had helped found and went to live with a relative in Fort Wayne, Ind. He died in 1845.

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

One of the things that every woman knows is the adaptability of the separate skirt of plain black satin. With one of these and with blouses for dress or semi-dress affairs, to be worn with it, the average woman can look the coming winter in the face with a mind at rest. The skirt pictured is adorned with a long row of small satin-covered buttons and loops.

COLLEGE HILL

Dr. Thomas Berryman is seriously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joe Ginter, and owing to his advanced age there is little hope for his recovery.

Mrs. R. B. Combs' sale last Friday was largely attended and the bidding was spirited. Most everything sold well. The farm rented for $275. Mr. B. F. Willson, of Ravenna, was the auctioneer.

Mrs. John Hise, of Richmond, visited her sister, Mrs. Olivia Hill, Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Victor Combs and Mrs. Combs of Winchester, were visitors here last Friday. Mr. E. A. Bogie is on the sick list.

Mrs. Eliza Ginter visited her daughter, Mrs. Vernon Griggs, near Paris, last week.

Mr. J. L. Combs will soon have his new building completed. It is to be a store and dwelling combined. He will go to Cincinnati to buy his stock of goods and furniture for his home.

Miss Jamie Bronston, of Versailles, spent the week end with Mrs. D. W. White, on Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chearn't Duncan were at home from Irvine to vote.

The Efficient Woman

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. Is ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, more good energy, in the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood is passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep on to the best possible condition.

Thousands of women have succeeded through daily exercise in the fresh air, and in the use of Pinkham's Vegetal Oil, a compound of the first signs of health and wellness.

Covington, Nov. 9.—Relatives of John Thorp, 55, reported to the police that they believed Thorp, who had been missing since October 27, was hired to Cleveland by an acquaintance, induced to collect a $2,000 legacy and murdered. John Donaldson, brother-in-law, said that the missing man's brother, Charles Thorp, died in Cleveland 6 months ago and left the bequest of $2,000. Covington police have requested the police of Cleveland to look for a man who had roomed with Thorp.

JILLSON TELLS HISTORY OF COAL IN STATE

(By Association Bureau)

Louisville, Nov. 8.—Coal was first discovered and used by white men in Kentucky in 1730 and its use and production has steadily increased during most of the intervening 170 years. Dr. William René Jillson, director and geologist of the Kentucky Geological Survey, asserted here last night in reading a history of the coal industry in Kentucky before the Filson Club. That the Indians and their forefathers undoubtedly knew of coal although there is no record of their having learned it, Dr. Jillson asserted.

Dr. Thomas Walker credited with being the first white man to traverse the Wilderness, whose survey was the basis on which the boundary line between Kentucky and Tennessee was finally determined, was the first white man to find and use coal and record the fact in Kentucky. Dr. Walker's diary, published by the Filson Club, and which was quoted by Dr. Jillson, shows an entry on April 13, 1750, wherein Walker mentions the finding of large lumps of coal in Cumberland Gap, then called Cache Gap, and his use for camp fires. His diary, according to Dr. Jillson, shows frequent mention of coal thereafter.

Christopher Mist, who entered Kentucky in the spring of 1751, mentioned the finding of coal in the western part of Kentucky and in May 17, 1751, his diary shows that he took samples to his employers, the Ohio Land Company of Maryland.

Dr. Jillson, after giving credit to the Indians for first seeing and using coal, largely for the carving of ornaments, expressed the opinion that it was strange that they did not discover burning properties, inasmuch as they were always putting stones into fires for cooking purposes. The Indians of the southwest, he said, used coal for firing pottery.

He then dealt with the formation period in which he said the newly formed land was covered with forest growths and then by a seismic disturbance was again lowered into the sea where it was turned into a very soft formation that later solidified into coal.

The earliest known white man to pass the Kentucky coal fields was LaSalle according to Dr. Jillson. He did not, however, apparently discover coal during his trip down the Ohio from the mouth of the Allegheny in 1669-70, nor did other explorers who touched on the borders of the state between 1643 and 1700.

"The exact date of the starting of production of coal for intra-state transport is uncertain," Dr. Jillson said, "but it is certain that the extent of that coal fields and many of the best veins were known in 1810."

In 1820 William D. McLean opened a mine on Green River, the first commercial operation in the Western Kentucky fields.

Production for sale in 1828 was 228 short tons. Prior to this coal seems to have figured little in the calculations of writers and explorers, he says, as Filson in his book published in 1785 fails to mention it. Mining, however, had been spasmodically carried on from 1792 and during the latter part of the eighteenth century coal from Kentucky was used to forge iron smelted in the first iron furnace west of the Alleghenies which was founded at Owingsville.

Since 1828 the coal production of the state has grown steadily with a brief halt after and during the civil war when production fell from more than 250,000 tons to approximately 150,000 tons. It regained the impetus, however, after the civil war, although the development was comparatively slow until 1913 when railroads were extended to the headquarters of the mountain streams and the production grew in leaps and bounds. The total production of the state as recorded from 1828 to 1920 inclusive was 403,525,581 tons, he said. Of the 215,023,557 tons produced during the years 1913 to 1920 inclusive and only 138,120,415 prior to 1913. The production from 1913 to 1920 inclusive was 100,405,151 tons valued at $7,059,755.

The first bill on offering the coal industry was the creation of the Kentucky Geological Survey in 1851, while in 1881 the office of mineral inspector was created and in 1893 a law was passed requiring miners before they employed employees or themselves the majority weight of coal to have a chief weighman appointed by the employer. In 1907 the law requiring a required ventilation was passed and in 1911 a bill was passed requiring miners to pay their own taxes on the fourteenth of the month following that in which services was rendered. In 1912 the age limit of child labor was set at 14 years and in 1920 was raised to 16 years and in 1928 the age was passed making children stand on examination before the state mine inspector.

The coal field bill first passed the legislature in 1912 at which time coal production in the state, in 1913, amounted to 1,000,000 tons. In 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2034, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041, 2042, 2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053, 2054, 2055, 2056, 2057, 2058, 2059, 2060, 2061, 2062, 2063, 2064, 2065, 2066, 2067, 2068, 2069, 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076, 2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2086, 2087, 2088, 2089, 2090, 2091, 2092, 2093, 2094, 2095, 2096, 2097, 2098, 2099, 20100, 20101, 20102, 20103, 20104, 20105, 20106, 20107, 20108, 20109, 20110, 20111, 20112, 20113, 20114, 20115, 20116, 20117, 20118, 20119, 20120, 20121, 20122, 20123, 20124, 20125, 20126, 20127, 20128, 20129, 20130, 20131, 20132, 20133, 20134, 20135, 20136, 20137, 20138, 20139, 20140, 20141, 20142, 20143, 20144, 20145, 20146, 20147, 20148, 20149, 20150, 20151, 20152, 20153, 20154, 20155, 20156, 20157, 20158, 20159, 20160, 20161, 20162, 20163, 20164, 20165, 20166, 20167, 20168, 20169, 20170, 20171, 20172, 20173, 20174, 20175, 20176, 20177, 20178, 20179, 20180, 20181, 20182, 20183, 20184, 20185, 20186, 20187, 20188, 20189, 20190, 20191, 20192, 20193, 20194, 20195, 20196, 20197, 20198, 20199, 20200, 20201, 20202, 20203, 20204, 20205, 20206, 20207, 20208, 20209, 20210, 20211, 20212, 20213, 20214, 20215, 20216, 20217, 20218, 20219, 20220, 20221, 20222, 20223, 20224, 20225, 20226, 20227, 2022

ANOTHER BIG OFFER IS COMING SOON

Workers In Subscription Campaign Are Mighty Busy—
Just Look At Standing

We are trying to find publishing candidates who are running neck-

and neck, as all of them have increased their votes wonderfully, and from this list you can see that we have some good workers who are devoting their time and attention to this, and are getting results.

In the last week about ten candidates have forced to the front and there are now some 15 or 20 candidates who are running neck-and neck, as all of them have increased their votes wonderfully, and it is a horse race between them, as their vote this week is almost double that of last week; and each day they are coming in with subscriptions and adding on to their votes.

The Daily Register is going to offer you another Event beginning the first of next week, as we are going to make it interesting to you for your noble efforts in this campaign, as the harder you work the more encouragement we are going to give you until the prizes will be given on Saturday.

Remember you have just one month left in which to win these Grand Prizes, and from now on you can earn more than $250 a week with hard work, but remember there are several workers who are very close together and are changing places each few days. Now is the time to get the lead on your competitors. See all your friends and get the subscriptions they have promised you and ask them to renew for five or ten years, as this will give you a big lead say ten subscribers for ten years each. With a good lead now, you will be hard to overtake in the latter part of the campaign. Below is the standing of the candidates today.
